On the Grimaldi Phenomenon

Thursday 7 September 2023 10:15 (20 minutes)

This communication deals with a short but exhaustive historical development of two different viewpoints about the diffraction phenomenon. This foreword to introduce the first and dramatic phenomenology observed since the end of the XVII century. Pedagogical observations are revisited about this first phenomenon observed. Impetus to this paper was given by a critical question posed by a student when Author was teaching some Optics experiments.
